RE: VERMONT'S CONSUMER PROTECTION RULE 121

Dear Ms. Angle,

We refer to Vermont's Consumer Protection Rule 121, with an effective date of July 1, 2016 ("CP 121").

Per CP 121.03, Exemptions and Exceptions, all of Stonyfield Farm, Inc.'s Stonyfield Organic and Brown Cow products, including those listed on the attached Exhibit A, are exempt from the labeling requirements of CP 121.02, Labeling. Specifically:

1. Stonyfield Organic products have been certified as "organic" under 7 C.F.R. §205.301 by an organization accredited to make such certifications under the USDA National Organic Program. (See CP 121.03(f), Foods Verified by a Qualifying Organization).
2. Brown Cow products either are Non-GMO Project Verified and/or sworn statements compliant with the requirements of CP 121.03(b) with regard to all ingredients currently subject to the requirements of Rule 121 contained in those products have been obtained affirming that they (1) were made or grown from food or seed that has not been knowingly or intentionally produced with genetic engineering and (2) have been segregated from and have not been knowingly or intentionally commingled with food or seed that may have been produced with genetic engineering. (See CP 121.03(b), Foods Certified as Not Produced with Genetic Engineering).

For questions regarding Stonyfield Farm, Inc.'s compliance with Vermont's Consumer Protection Rule 121, you may contact me directly at the telephone or email address listed below.

Sincerely,
